Thirteenth Annual Report.

To the Members of Salem Bible Class:

MY DEAR FRIENDS: Thirteen years have now elapsed, since in the Providence of God, your Teacher was called to the work in which we are now engaged. He entered upon it with a sense of his own weakness and yet with an undoubting faith that He who called, would also fit him for its arduous duties. Six persons who had been under the care of a former Teacher, together with five new members presented themselves on the first Sunday of January, 1870. Our first act was to kneel before the Lord, and implore His blessing. A solemn sense of the presence of God was felt in every heart. How our prayers on that occasion have been answered our history for the past thirteen years fully attests. Seven hundred and thirty-four persons in all have been connected with the Class. Twenty-three of these have departed this life while holding their membership. No doubt many others have also been called into the eternal world since they have left us. These facts furnish a theme for solemn reflection. That so many have listened to Divine Truth from the lips of your Teacher suggests the question how many of them have profited thereby? How many of them as children of God have been edified and built up in their faith? How many have attended these humble ministrations and yet have remained impenitent? Of the large number who have been registered on our Class Roll how many names will be found written in the Lamb's Book of Life in the great day? These are solemn inquiries and should be pondered over by us all. Though hundreds of our former members have removed to other localities and are separated from us by great distances, many of whom we shall meet no more in this life, yet we shall all meet again at the bar of God! Could those who have crossed the Jordan of death return, what would be the message they would bring? Should one of them some Sunday afternoon, suddenly appear before us, clothed in the effulgence of Heaven's own light, how earnestly would he appeal to each and all, to escape from the toils of Satan and to make covenant with God. How apathetic and indifferent we would all appear to the shining visitor. Though we cannot with our mortal eye behold the redeemed, yet the Scripture assures us that we are "compassed about by a cloud of witnesses," and we are admonished to lay aside every weight and the sin which doth so easily beset us," and to "run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith."

It gives me pleasure to record that on the whole, you have manifested an increasing interest in the spiritual as well as temporal condition of the Class. During the summer months the attendance was diminished in consequence of the absence of many members from the city, and of the prevalence of sickness. But in the autumn and following months the attendance increased materially and has been gratifying. In our Souvenir for 1881, I brought to your notice the condition of our Library, and in March you promptly and generously responded to the suggestions made, by the purchase of a large number of excellent books, besides having more than ninety of the old volumes rebound. Our Library now numbers five hundred volumes and upwards, selected with care, and at an expense of at least six hundred dollars. It is of great importance that, as many of you as possible, should take a book every week and read it carefully. It will amply repay you. Our Library being miscellaneous in its character you have the opportunity of storing your minds with religious truth, the history of the Church, and of many of the most important States and Nations of the earth ; Biographies of the Reformers and Martyrs, who sealed their testimony with their blood and who secured for us under the blessing of God the civil and religious liberties we now enjoy. The value of history cannot be over estimated. We can neither understand or appreciate the present without a knowledge of the past. This knowledge will make us love God and our country better. It will inspire us with gratitude to Him who rules the destinies of nations, as well as individuals, and with an intelligent love of the Church of Christ, and with true patriotism. By it we are taught that the seeds of religious freedom were planted in this western world alike, by the Puritan in New England, the Hollander in New York, the Quaker and Palatine in Pennsylvania, and the Swiss and Huguenot in the Carolinas. It is in the light of History that we foresee written as with a sunbeam on the blue vault of heaven, Liberty and Law, Religion and Education, and Universal Peace. The good time promised by the Creator is hastening on with rapid strides, when these indispensable factors of human happiness will reach their zenith, and under their blazing light ignorance and superstition, tyranny, whether exercised by the State or by a corrupt Hierarchy, in the name of religion, slavery of mind and body, shall melt away and be forever dissipated. In that glorious period, so surely to arrive, the American citizen whether sheltered by the Pine Tree or the Palmetto, the towering monarch of the forest in California's distant clime, or reposing in his quiet home on the rich alluvial of the valley of the Mississippi, will have reached the goal sought by our fathers in the immortal Declaration, and enjoy to their full and free extent, life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

It is with gratitude that I am able to report increased interest in our Tuesday evening social prayer meetings held from house to house among our members. These meetings have been kept up with great punctuality throughout the year with the exception of the hot months. The last one in the summer was held June 27th, and the first one in the autumn, on the 12th of September, both at the house of our brother, John Young, Sr. At these meetings we have had great pleasure in the assistance rendered by such members as could make it convenient to attend, as well as by the cheerful co-operation of brethren not belonging to the Class, whose warm and pious hearts inclined them to unite with us in supplicating the blessings of Heaven upon the cause which lies so near to us all. I allude to the brothers Chayne, Fletcher, Banford, Williamson, Bostick and Gumpert. May the Lord abundantly reward these brethren for their labor of love.

We frequently assembled at brother Young's by his special request. It pleased the Lord to cause him to pass through severe bodily suffering, and for many weeks it seemed as though he would soon be called home. Unable therefore to be in his accustomed seat in the Class, he esteemed it a great privilege to have us meet in his house, where, whenever able, he would audibly join us in our hymns and prayers, though often so weak that he could but send up to the throne the silent aspirations of his heart.

During the year we have been engaged in the continued study of our favorite book "The Steps of Jesus," and at the close of December we reached the 54th Lesson. We are going through this little work for the fourth time, yet we are continually finding new beauties undiscovered in our previous studies. The sayings and doings of the blessed Jesus while on earth, constitute an inexhaustible theme for our study and reflection. Himself the greatest and the best who ever trod on this sinful earth, His life is the model after which we should all seek to fashion our lives and conduct. Just in proportion as we follow Him in meekness, gentleness and purity of purpose, as well as in heavenly zeal, will we be successful in laboring for the interests of His kingdom on earth. We may profitably also look at His indomitable perseverance. From the day when He entered upon His ministry at Nazareth, until amidst His expiring throes of agony upon the Cross, when He sent a thrill of joy through the heart of the repentant malefactor, "This day shalt thou be with Me in Paradise." His life was one continued, unremitting pursuit of the work which His Father had given Him to do. Would you imitate Him, then my dear friends, let me suggest that you first of all, seek a baptism of the Holy Spirit. He will give you the light and wisdom required to appreciate your privileges, as well as an intelligent idea of the nature, and needs of the field in which you are to work. He will impart the necessary wisdom and strength to enable you to labor successfully. Most of you have professed His name, and wear the badge of church membership. This profession includes the idea that you yourselves once felt the burden of sin, and by earnest prayer sought and found deliverance. Rejoicing with an unspeakable joy, you at the time felt that you could and would do anything that might prove your deep sense of gratitude to the Saviour. You even thought that the old church members who had long stood in the church, were cold and lethargic in their love. What have you accomplished since your confirmation? What wandering, sin-sick soul have you brought to Jesus that He might heal him and set him free? In Harrisburg and its suburbs we have a population, I suppose, of thirty-five thousand. Perhaps forty churches, and as many ministers of the gospel, whose whole business is to preach the tidings of salvation. Yet with all this, not one-third of the people are found in church on Sunday. Although we have as good Sunday-schools, and as many of them, in proportion as are to be found in the country, yet there are this day a great number of children who do not attend at all. Although we have a large number of adults of both sexes attending the Bible classes established, there are twice as many more persons of suitable age who are found outside of these classes. In view of these startling facts, what seems plainer, that you should in the fear of God lay your hand to the work of gathering in souls for the Redeemer.

In the Providence of God you have been brought here. Your names are registered as members of this Class. You show your regard for its welfare, and your interest in acquiring divine truth by your cheerful and faithful attendance. But shall this be all? Are you willing selfishly to enjoy these privileges, and after a little while when your race is run, to go to heaven empty handed! Without a single soul brought to Jesus by your instrumentality, or a single jewel to shine in the crown of your rejoicing in Heaven! Are you willing to hide the talent that God has given you, that when He shall come to judge the quick and dead you may, with the unprofitable servant exclaim, "Lord, behold, here is Thy pound which I have kept laid up in a napkin." My prayer is, that not one of you shall so unhappily meet the Judge, but that with the good and faithful servant first called, you may all be able joyfully to say, "Lord, Thy pound hath gained ten pounds!" Think of this suggestion, my dear friends, pray over it, and resolve with the opening year that you will go forth among your acquaintances, who attend no Bible Class, and secure their union with us. There is not one who could not bring another person here if a fair and honest endeavor would be made. There is beside a class of young persons who have an especial claim upon your attention. I refer to the numerous young men and young ladies who come to Harrisburg from other places, to obtain employment in our various industrial works. Many of these have been accustomed to attend Sunday-school at their homes. Here they are strangers among strangers, and unless very soon introduced into the Sunday-school or Bible Class, they become indifferent, and may lose their interest entirely in spiritual things. We should welcome all such, kindly interest ourselves in their behalf, and assist them in finding a spiritual home during their sojourn in our city. Some indeed have never enjoyed the opportunity of attending an adult Bible Class at home, and would feel greatly obliged, if you would bring them here, that they might share with us the blessings so sure to flow from an earnest study of God's word.

Late in the year we were called upon to mourn the sudden departure, from this life, of one of our number. None had been thus taken from us since the second of December, 1880. The Souvenir had recorded no death in 1881, and we had drawn so near the close of 1882, that we did not anticipate a record of death in this year, but He with whom is the number of our months, decreed otherwise. Miss KATE A. COOK, who had often attended as a visitor in 1881, formally united with us on the 29th day of January, 1882. She was faithful and punctual in her attendance, not only in the Class, but also at our Tuesday evening prayer-meeting. She was present for the last time at the prayer-meeting on the fifth of December, and in Bible Class on the 10th. On the evening of Tuesday, 12th inst., she called on an intimate lady friend to accompany her to our prayer-meeting, but finding her friend indisposed, they did not come. On Wednesday evening, 13th inst., she with her friend attended the weekly prayer-meeting at St. Paul's M. E. Church, Vine street. Whilst there she had a slight attack of illness, but rallied and remained to the close of the services. It was only on Sunday, 17th inst., that she took her bed and consented to have a physician called. She had for her physician, one of the oldest and most experienced practitioners in the city. On Sabbath evening medicines were administered, and she fell asleep, resting calmly through the night. It was hoped that she would awake refreshed. Morning however came, and she still remained peacefully sleeping. When her physician arrived, about seven-and-a-half o'clock, he at once discovered her true condition, and attempted to arouse her, but in vain. About fifteen minutes before eight o'clock, on Monday morning, December 18th, she breathed her last. The grief of her parents and brother, may be imagined, but cannot be described. Funeral services were held at the residence of her parents, on Thursday, 21st inst., at 2 o'clock P. M., and were conducted by Rev. A. H. Studebaker, Pastor of Zion's Lutheran Church, of which the deceased was a member, and by Rev. J. B. Mann, Pastor of St. Paul's M. E. Church, where she very frequently worshipped. Most excellent addresses were delivered by both clergymen. The members of the Class present, led by brother A. L. Chayne, sang the following Hymn:

"Jesus, while our hearts are bleeding
O'er the spoils that death has won,
We would at this solemn meeting
Calmly say, Thy will be done.

Though cast down, we're not forsaken;
Though afflicted, not alone;
Thou didst give, and Thou hast taken;
Blessed Lord, Thy will be done.

Though to-day, we're filled with mourning,
Mercy still is on the throne;
With thy smiles of love returning,
We can sing, Thy will be done.

By thy hands the boon was given;
Thou hast taken but thine own;
Lord of Earth! and God of Heaven!
Evermore, Thy will be done."

At the request of the clergymen, her Teacher offered the closing prayer, and the precious remains of the loved one were conveyed to the grave by Messrs.

Stephen M. Beard, D. H. Hammaker, Edward A. Kepner and Louis K. Scheffer.

Thus peacefully passed away, one whose chief desire seemed to be, to improve in spiritual knowledge. Her quiet, unobtrusive, pious life, is the best assurance that we have that it is well with her in eternity. It is a trite saying, that it is "not how we die, but how we live," that fixes our future destiny. Though death at that particular time may have been unexpected to her, yet her conversation before her last illness revealed the fact that death had no terrors for her, and that she was ready to meet the summons whosoever it might come. We miss her in the Class, and in the social prayer-meeting, but we shall meet her hereafter in our Father's House, where death can never come. With the bereaved parents and their remaining sons and daughter and other kindred we deeply sympathize, and humbly commend them all to that same Saviour in whom their beloved departed one so fully trusted.

Our thirteenth annual Re-union was held at the Hall of the Young Men's Christian Association on Thursday evening, December 21st, 1882. As on former similar occasions the attendance was large, and all present greatly enjoyed the exercises. It was a sad coincidence that we, on the same day, at 2 o'clock P. M., deposited one of our number in the narrow house appointed for all the living. This event subdued our feelings at the evening meeting and gave a profitable turn to all the proceedings.

The music was delightful, and was rendered under the direction of our Musical Director, brother Phelps, assisted by brother A. L. Chayne, Mr. John A. McCrone, Mr. Horace Chayne, Misses Wagner, Belle Gutelius, Altmaier, Blosser, Reichard, Mrs. Robert Keister, and Miss Sadie Chayne. Mr. H. C. Gebhardt, by request, attended, and added greatly to the effect of the music by his cornet, which he played very skillfully. In addition to the beautiful hymns sang, we were favored by several instrumental pieces on the piano by Miss Chayne, with flute accompaniment by Mr. H. Chayne.

The addresses were delivered by Prof. John K. Tomlinson, and Professor L. H. Gause. The first on "The Flight of Time and Attending Circumstances," and the latter on the "Power of Social Influence." Both of these addresses were listened to with marked attention, and were replete with happy thoughts and wise counsels. We had also a recitation "Just as I am, without one plea," rendered with much feeling, by Miss Alice Blosser. Miss Beckie Hoffman, who has always heretofore on similar occasions taken a prominent part in the musical exercises, was present, but unable to do so this time on account of indisposition.

After the usual refreshments, and a few remarks by the Teacher, the Class united in a parting hymn, and the exercises were closed with prayer.

To Professors Gause and Tomlinson, Mr. A. L. Chayne, Mr. John A. McCrone and Mr. Horace Chayne, as well as to all those members and other friends through whose kind assistance our Re-union was made such a gratifying success, and so entertaining and profitable, I take this occasion to return my sincere thanks, as well as the thanks of the entire membership. I would not forget in this connection, also to thank the young men who acted as a committee on refreshments, and to congratulate them on the completeness of their arrangements.

After dismission, and when most of the audience had retired, our venerable brother, Mr. John Alter, in descending the steps at the outer door of the Hall on Locust street, made a misstep and fell to the pavement with great violence. He was carried into the parlor of the Building, and laid upon a sofa. Dr. Frederick W. Coover was summoned, who soon appeared, and on examination found the right shoulder dislocated. Mr. Alter consented to be taken to the Hospital, and he was immediately removed in a carriage. The shoulder was replaced, and our aged friend was speedily relieved. He returned to his own home on the following Saturday much improved, and with the exception of his shoulder, quite well. He is now in his eightieth year, and in excellent health.

In the past as in former years, many letters have been received from former members of our class who have removed from Harrisburg and settled in our Western States and Territories. Some of them are very encouraging, and prove that the writers have carried with them to their new homes the principles taught here, and a true missionary spirit, which has led them to establish Sabbath-schools, or materially assist in the maintenance of schools already established. From the testimony of one of the most noted Sunday-school missionaries in the Western field, more than fifty adult Bible classes have been established by him in the West and South-west, on the same principles as this Class, to which work he devoted himself after visiting us some years ago. We have much, therefore, to encourage us to persevere in the work, which we hope to do with renewed zeal, and with a deeper sense than ever before, of the responsibility it involves. Assured that our mutual prayers for success will be answered, and our labors blessed to our best spiritual good, I would commend you all to God and to the word of His grace which alone can keep you in the way of righteousness and peace.

I beg to acknowledge your gift of a basket of beautiful natural flowers, left at my residence on the evening of Saturday, December 30th, with a single card, "From Salem Bible Class." This, like many other tokens of your love and confidence, is highly appreciated. The flowers have, ere this, faded and died, but it is a pleasant thought that, the affection which prompted the gift will never fade or die. May He who paints the lily and the rose and gives such sweet fragrance to the myriads of flowers that deck the earth, bless you each and all, and keep us safely till at last we shall be permitted together to traverse the banks of the river of life, and enjoy the perpetual fragrance of the flowers that bloom in the Paradise of God.

As ever, yours in Christian fellowship and love,

RUDOLPH F. KELKER.
